President Roosevelt continued etforts last night to avert threatened strikes by conferring with representatives of automobile workers and appealing to Pacific coast longshoremen to postpone action pending further word from the president. After conferring with Mr. Roosevelt, labor leaders seeported substantial progress.

Sought wage and employments levels of 1926 and that NRA was due "all the credit."

Sloan said the industry had restored employment to 101 per cent, and that the industry "by and large has come out of the red ink into a break-even point."

Then handed to newspapermen a statement from the consumers' inclusives committee, which he also heads, warning that further absorption of unemployment must come in the capital goods industry, but that first "political obstacles and legislative threates" must be removed.

The statement cited the Wagner labor bill, the Connery 30-hour week labor bill, the Connery 30-hour week within the securities act as examples of "major political obstacles" which were holding up the capital goods industry through "uncertainties and fears."

As he fell through four stories 'Old Jones" Shows in As he fell through four stories of space, from the rear window of the apartment building, Mr. Wade thought for a moment or two that he was a goner. But the Wade luck held, and he landed "plop," just like that, on top of the sedan top, which was rather tough on the auto, as the top was crushed in.

It was okey for Mr. Wade, however, as he found later at Grady hospital when physicians examined him and reported no injuries. But after that, the Wade luck changed. PARIS, March 22—(UP)—Photographic proof of the existence of a dead city deep in the Arabian desert, believed to be the ancient capital of Sheba's beauteous queen, was brought back to Paris by two daring explorers today.

The pictures, taken from an airplane, were in the possession of Andre Malraux, widely known author and adventurer, and Captain Edouard Corniglion-Molinier, his pilot on their flight over the windswept sands of Araby.

The ruins are in better shape than any others of antiquity now known, including those of Greece and Rome. Captain Corniglion-Molinier told the United Press shortly after their arrival by plane. "In modern times, 223 people have hunted for the ancient capital."

"But they hunted afoot and in vain. Many were murdered by fierce tribes, adding their opposition to the forces."

ALL-BRAN RELIEVED HIS CONSTIPATION

Delicious Cereal Brought New Health to Mr. Bartholomew

We quote from his voluntary let-ter: "I had considerable trouble with my stomach. Digestion was out of the question. I got medicine which gave me only temporary relief.

"Then I thought of taking ALL-Bran. I started eating a cereal dishful two or three times a day.

"It has been over a year now since I ate that first dish of bran, but from that day to this I have had the pleasure of enjoying the proper functioning of the digestive organs.

"Thanks to ALL-BRAN. I still eat it regularly and like it better all the time."—Lester Bartholomew, Cadillac, Mich.

Constipation is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to promote elimination. ALL-BRAN supplies both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Certainly this food is more natural than taking harmful patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls daily will usually overcome most types of constipation. With each meal in chronic cases. If not relieved this way see your doctor.

Appeal To Be Taken Against Judgment Given in Fulton Court.

Foreclosure salt of the Hurt building and leases of space therein was authorized Thursday by Judge E. E. Pomeroy. in Fulton superior court, who rendered a final judgment in favor of the Atlanta Trust Company as trustees against Atlanta Realty Corporation and Hurt Building Corporation in its foreclosure suit for default in the payment of principal and interest of $3,825.000 of the building's first mortgage 7 per cent gold bonds. James A. Branch, attorney for the Hurt Building Corporation, announced that an appeal will be taken.

Barring the equity of redemption of Atlanta Realty Corporation and Hurt Building Corporation, the court's decree fixed an indebtedness of $3,825,000 principal now outstanding plus four $133,875 semi-annual interest payments with $36,644 interest thereon, and the further sum of $60,979 interest on the principal since January 1, 1934. Senate Expected To Start Debate on Cotton Measure Early Next Week.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—(P)—
The senate took up the Bankhead cotton bill long enough today to make it the unfinished business and adjourned with prospects of starting debate on the measure early next week.

In a routine move, the bill passed by the house was substituted for the almost identical bill proposed in the senate.

The measure was up long enough for an amendment to be offered by Senator Hayden, democrat, Arizona, that would exempt from the provisions of the bill long-staple Egyptian cotton, of which some 13,000 bales were raised last year in Arizona.

Senator Bankhead, democrat, Alabama, joint author of the bill with his brother in the house, said he had no objection to the amendment.

He is prepared to offer two of them himself to make the bill "really effective" in stabilizing cotton prices and cutting down the large carryover.

Bankhead will propose that the tax on surplus cotion be set at 75 per cent of the value instead of the 50 per cent carried in the bill as it left the house. The 75 per cent was in the bill originally but the house lowered it. His second amendment would permit levying the tax at the time the excess was ginned. re excess was ginned.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., March 22.—(R)
By the flickering light of an oil lamp in a farmhouse window, Albert Shinsky, mountain youth, today re-enacted the slaying of Mrs. Susan Mummery, 63, after he told county detectives Louis Buono that he shot the woman to break a "hex" she put on him eight years ago.

She called a spirit from the sky, he said nervously, and it haunted him into illness, then told him to slay her.

With the aid of flashlights, a squad of officers took the farm hand over Line mountain before dawn and drew his fantastic story from him.

He said he slipped through the trees Saturday night and saw the outline of two figures against the dim lamp light in a front room, he said. He could see Mrs. Mummey bending forward.

"Our city council is undoubtedly too large—it could be cut to a third its present size. At present there is too much mouth in it."

Explaining his attitude on beer and Sunday movies and baseball, the mayor said he favored these things because they showed that Atlanta was shaking off its provincial ways, was throwing off its old-fashioned thraldem.

He characterized advertising as fundamental necessity of business and of municipalities. But it must be truthful. It was not successful when it had merely put goods on the shelves. It attained its end only when the

He said that Atlanta had been helped by advertising, but also had suffered from it. It had had the effect in some instances of bringing people to Atlanta whom the city now had on its hands.

"It is not enough to bring people here," he explained. "They must be made to fit in with the life of the city. They must enjoy their residence here and must find it profitable."

The surprise came when Comptroller General William B. Harrison announced that the assessments of other utilities, including those which accepted rate cuts and those unsuccessful in their efforts to combat public service commission orders in the courts, would not be fixed until a later date.

the president's present methods" were likened here tonight by W. D. Anderson, Georgia textile manufacturer, to the "murmurings of the children of Israel against Moses when they were 25 miles on their journey out of Egyptian bondage.

"Now that we appear to be on our way out of the depression, one cannot help but notice some murmurings of discontent over the president's present methods," the president of the Bibb Manufacturing Company told the Canton Chamber of Commerce at its annual dinner. "Any man who undertakes to do as many things as the president has undertaken to do is bound to make some mistakes. I presume that he realizes his mistakes with suggestion for the reduction of hours, saying:

Wanted To Turn Back.

"Human nature seems to be the same in all ages and history records plenty of parallels to what we see is now beginning. I presume that when Moses led the Israelites out of Egypt his popularity and hold on the people for the first 25 or 30 miles was all that any leader could desire. However, the record is that the people soon began to 'murmur.' Some even complained bitterly and clamored for the fleshpots of Egypt. They wanted to go back to the Hoover regime.

must be evolved in preference to the suggestion for the reduction of hours, saying:

"For example, the general position is advanced that the cotton textile industry reduce its hours from 40 per week to 36 per week, and that a worker in a cotton mill who was making $15 per week for 40 hours of work should be paid the same $15 per week for 36 hours of work. Such a plan does not increase the income of the worker, but merely reduces the number of hours he must work to earn his income. Such a move would satisfy no particular longing on the part of the worker, as the 40 hours per week which he now works is satisfactory and is much less than he has always been accustomed to work. On the contrary, to reduce the production of the mill 10 per cent and increase all overhead costs a comparable amount would result in such an increase in the cost of textile and in the selling price of textiles over the country, that an undue burden would be put upon the buyer."

Steps Indorsed.

The speaker also praised the efforts of the administration to place more families back on the farms and termed as alarming the drift toward the cities. He described the recent NRA meeting in Washington as good tempered and helpful.

The tendency toward socialism, he said, was a drift toward worn out political philosophy. He declared that he did not believe that the American people were ready to scrap the profit plan of industry for any nostrum, no matter how high sounding it may be. At his conclusion Mr. Anderson gave a resume of the Wagner labor bill which he attacked in strongest terms as irresponsible regimentation of industry by inexperienced commanders and as unfair toward industry as the wildest charges of labor against industry.

Light fluffy SNOWDRIFT makes lighter fluffier biscuits

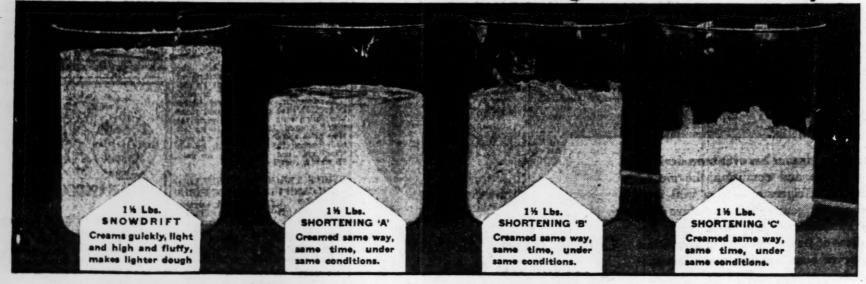

Snowdrift is so light and creamy, it "cuts in" quickly with your other ingredients. And speed in "cutting in" is the first key to good biscuits.

Snowdrift's creaminess is just the right consistency to mix evenly and thoroughly with the tiny particles of flour. And creamy Snowdrift makes a lighter dough than other shortenings. Just as beaten frothy white of egg gives greater lightness and volume than white-of-egg right from the shell.

What is the knack of making good biscuits? Merely knowing how to mix and work the dough-and following your same successful method always. Snowdrift helps you because it is always the same even creaminess. You cut in the Snowdrift just the same way every time. And every time your Snowdrift biscuits are light and fluffy. Because Snowdrift is so wholesome and good-to-eat, it just naturally makes biscuits with marvelous delicate flavor.

Authorities were inclined to believe she played a minor role, if at all, and told Investigating Magistrate Andre Benon they had not decided whether she would be sought for questioning in connection with what they called a traffic in American, British and French secrets.

A belief that she had been implicated by two young Americans held with 14 others in connection with the espionage syndicate was neither confirmed nor denied in police circles.

The American couple, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon Switz, of New Jersey and New York, were said by authorities to have made a full confession

SCIENTIST HUNTED IN N. Y.

AS "BRAINS" OF SPY RING
NEW YORK, March 22.—(R)—

Mysterious "secret agents" are in New York city, the World-Telegram said today, searching for a foreign scientist, who may be the "brains" of an international espionage ring.

The fugitive, who the paper said is supposed to have left Switzerland a few weeks ago and to have set up headquarters here, is described as head of the espionage system which Robert Switz and his wife, of East
Orange, N. J., are charged with aiding in France.

3 Die as Air Liner Falls in Peru: 'San Jose' Plane, 9 Victims Found

By the Associated Press.

One South American air liner crashed with fatal result yesterday, while the snow-capped Andes yielded the long-hidden wreckage of another and its nine victims.

Three members of the crew of a Pan-American-Grace Airways plane were killed when the ship met disaster on its take-off at Lima, Peru. Four passengers were injured, including Manuel Trucco, ambassador from Chile to the United States, and his daughter.

Meanwhile, the 20-month old mystery of the disappearance of the airliner "San Jose," on a flight from Santiago, Chile, to Buenos Aires, was cleared away by two mountaineers.

On muleback, they discovered the wreckage and bodies of the nine victims under snow at the base of Mount Aconcagua, the loftiest in the Americas, towering 23,300 feet.

Search by dozens of planes after the liner's disappearance in 1932 had proven fruitless. It also was a Pan American-Grace plane. Save for one which was headless, bodies of the victims were in good condition.

In another remote part of the southern hemisphere an air episode ended with happier results.

The envoy, who was returning to Chile trom the United States, following the death of his wife, March 17, at Santiago, suffered fractures of the hip and pelvis bones, and was most seriously hurt.

The craft was the Pan-American-Grace Airways plane "San Rafael." It was bound for Chile with 12 persons aboard and had climbed about 60 feet when it fell, probably because of motor trouble.

Forget that ICE REFRIGERATION costs less ... see how much Better it is

TO ANYONE familiar with the process of ice refrigeration, there I can be no question of its superiority. Ice refrigeration keeps your food fresh and clean because the air is constantly conditioned and purified, climinating the gases, odors and excretions given off by food. No cold storage plant would think of attempting to store food without some method of ventilation and air conditioning. The freight cars that make up the great fruit and vegetable expresses are ventilator as well as refrigerator cars. The air in your refrigerator must be kept clean, pure and have the proper amount of moisture as well as the proper temperature to preserve your food healthfully. Ice refrigeration is the only method which provides all these essentials to food purity.

Without the melting ice, the constantly circulating air and the drain which removes gases, odors and impurities, there would be a commingling of food flavors and odors, a drying out or devitalizing of food. No mechanical means has ever been devised to ventilate and condition the air in domestic refrigerators. In a well iced modern refrigerator Mother Nature does this automatically and unfailingly. Regardless of its low cost, ice refrigeration has never been equaled, much less surpassed.

Examine the beautifully styled 1934 modern ice refrigerators. Compare the cost, performance, the greater benefit to your family's health and you will choose ice refrigeration.

Choose Wisely, Mother ... for His Sake

The health of your children depends to a great extent upon the foods they eat. Dont take any chances. Give them wholesome food, kept fresh and clean, free from flavor and odor contamination. Choose Ice Refrigeration.

News Behind the News

ENIGMA WASHINGTON, March 22.—The conservatives on the supreme court will not take a hint.

Rumors of their resignations have been spread broadcast throughout the land for nearly a year. Three of the four conservatives on the court have long since passed the retirement age.

Yet the conservatives do not retire. They continue in good health. Not only that, but they write minority opinions, such as that in the New York milk case, boldly questioning legal principles involved in the new deal.

that the matter has developed into a little situation in which the conservatives are determined to outlast Mr. Roosevelt, so he cannot appoint liberals in their places. At least, that is the result so SILENCE What has encouraged this suspicion is the case of Justice McReynolds. Last summer the rumor got around that he would retire at the fall term of court. His friends did not start the rumor. All that could be found out about the source of the rumor was that it probably "came from downtown." For the benefit of strangers to Washington, "downtown" is the realm of the administration.

Justice McReynolds silently failed to take notice of the rumor. He did not retire at the fall term, nor during the winter term. He reached the retirement age February 3, 1932.

exceedingly strong objecting opinion as leader of the conservative minority in the milk case.

MORE SILENCE His two conservative associates who have also reached the retirement age are Justices Sutherland (October 2, 1932) and Van Devanter (April 17, 1929). One liberal member of the court has also reached the retirement age, Justice Brandeis (November 13, 1926). But there have been no rumors about his resigning.

The matter is rather important because the new deal has been winning decisions in the court by the narrowest of margins, 5 to 4. If one of the conservatives would be so kind as to take a hint and retire, the margin would be 6 to 3.

Johnson, for re-election to the senate. He was one of the two supposed to have been slated for a supreme court appointment. The other was democratic Floor Leader Robinson.

It is possible that the conservative justices have given no consideration whatever to this subtle phase of the matter. They could be staying on merely because they like the court atmosphere or because retirement will cut their income from $20,000 to $10,000

Whatever the reason, the effect is the same. (The terms conservatives and liberals as used above carry no political implications. They merely describe the divergence of the court in the last two

There Are Gentle Methods of Catching Both Kinds of Fish

Some years ago, when I was writing a weekly page for the Saturday Evening Post, I sent in a batch of stuff that included a fish story. It must have seemed too fishy, for it wasn't printed.

Now, as the bait-digging season approaches, I shall tell it again for the information of far-away fishermen—knowing full well that the Philistines will accept no part of it.

Many years ago, in England, poor men who poached on the estates of the rich, developed a novel method of catching fish in shallow brooks.

method of approach as described by English writers.

Doubtless the method possessed a name, but I have not found it recalled "grabbling."

The origin of this word is obscure and the word itself confusing. It can't be related to the verb, "to grab," for a grab is a violent seizing and the art of grabbling requires a gentle and delicate caress.

Perhaps it is known to fishermen in many regions, but I have never heard it mentioned anywhere except in South Carolina. South Carolina people have preserved many of the traits and customs that came over with the first English settlers—saying "nev-you" when they mean "nephew," and things like that—and it is probable that the art of grabbling was introduced by some forefather who was a Men of the older generation are the experts. They work close to the Resignations of Committeemen To Have Little Effect - President Is Real Boss of His Party.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Post-master-General Farley's call to all democratic national committeemen or committeewomen to resign from the posts if they hold public office will have, as a matter of practical politics, little if any effect on the operations of the democratic party.

While it is true that there has been a recent drive to divorce public of-

while it is true that there has been a recent drive to divorce public officials from their positions on the national committee, on the theory that the affiliation is not in the public interest, the politicians smile at the move as being a more or less per-functory compliance with the demands of the hour, but as affecting not at all the methods of office-holders in controlling local affairs and appoint-

Real Powers Remain. Many political bosses have never served on national committees nor have they accepted public office, but their power was just as extensive. It does not matter who is national committeeman, but what force lies behind the individual who holds the post. In the present instance James A. Farley will be just as powerful when he resigns as chairman of the democratic national committee as if he had stayed in command. It is the administration in office which says, as a rule, what shall be done in party councils. Meetings of the democratic national committee will be dominated by President Roosevelt. What he says about future platforms or conven-tions will be heeded.

Indeed, there is very little for the democratic national committe as a democratic national committe as a body to do for the next four years. Under the custom established in the past, the president is usually asked to run again. The theory is that if he makes a good record he deserves renomination. If he doesn't, then nobody can make as good a defense of his policies as can the incumbent. Renomination Certain.

So, with a renomination virtually reassured for Mr. Roosevelt, the only job ahead is for the national head-quarters and its publicity to be effectively maintained. This is something which can be handled easily nowadays because the party head-quarters is in Washington and it is harmonarily set the something which the quarters is in Washington and it is permanently set up—something which the party owes to the efficiency of John J. Raskob, who never could understand why the national headquarters should be anywhere else but in Washington and why it should be demobilized between campaigns.

The only other purpose which national committeemen serve is to keep the local party organizations intact. But this can be done as well if not better by democrats who are actually in office than by national committeemen who reside in their states and do not have day-by-day contact with the administration. If it were necessary to line up delegates for a national sary to line up delegates for a national convention, which it probably will not be necessary to do in 1936, the office-holder has an even better opportunity than a national committee-man to see that the wishes of the ad-ministration are carried out. For the man in office has more prestige and influence and inferentially can promise rewards. He is on the inside looking out instead of being on the out-

Now and again in his 20 years, however, the policeman will come under a decent and somewhat efficient commanding officer for a brief period of time. But even such a commissioner probably will turn out to have a wife or daughter with novel ideas as to the sort of caps and uniform jackets that policemen should wear. If so, these innovations will be put into effect by departmental orders at considerable expense to the individual patrolman. That is always a

There usually ensues a drive of some kind to advertise the new administration to the citizens. Sometimes it is a crusade against vice on Main Street but it may take the form of an old-fashioned drag-net which scoops up a lot of beggars and un-important thieves who will be turned loose in a day or so for lack

The experienced policeman has learned, however, that it is not smart to take too seriously the assurance of the new commissioner that politics is at an end in the department. He soon begins to read that Lieutenant O'Brien, of headquarters, has been transferred to a beat out among the cabbage-rows and ash-dumps near the city limits 'for the good of the service" and he does not need telling that Lieutenant O'Brien has been sentenced thus as a rebuke to some ward politician of the defeated party. # BREAD, WATER DIET YOUTH ENDS OWN LIFE AFTER SHOOTING GIRL

Hugh Howell Grills Warat Narcotic Trial.

Warden A. C. Aderhold's authority for putting unruly convicts on a bread and water diet at the federal penitentiary here was challenged in court Thursday by attorneys defending six persons accused of plotting to smuggle narcotics into the prison.

Hugh Howell, counsel for two of the defendants, handed a book of prison rules to the warden on the witness stand and demanded that he cite the clause providing the punishment.

Aderhold searched long and deliberately while the court waited patiently in silence—but he failed to find

"Now, Mr. Warden," Howelf chal-lenged spiritedly, "just where do you get your authority to put those peo-ple in solitary confinement and re-strict their diet to six slices of bread per day?"

Aderhold admitted it didn't seem to be in the rule book but insisted the punishment was practiced with the knowledge and approval of the United States prison bureau in Washington.

The controversy started with testimony by Captain C. M. Head, of the prison staff, who revealed confinement to a small cell with food limited to six pieces of bread daily was the customary penalty for violating cerwhich have joined in the Albany suit. The commission was represented by John Goree.

It was contended that under the law creating the public service commission no authority for municipal supervision is given and that the word "corporations" used in the statute was no meant to apply to municipalities. The question of acquiescence was also raised, representatives of the cities contending that by lack of interference for 25 years the commission has lost any right it might have had to regulate such rates. It was pointed out that at one time such regulation had been considered, but that the attempt was abandoned when the late Judge J. K. Heinz, of the supreme court, then special attorney for the commission, rendered an opinion that the commission had no such power.

How to prevent the prevalence of ankle itching from the constant and untiring attacks of mosquitoes is a subject that I have always delighted in. I stand for the conservation of wild life, but these home-grown mosquitoes do not come under that classification. And as for the number of wild ones I have smashed, instead of leaving them to the tender mercies of the bats and nighthawks, I hate to think. It's like light years, which always lt's like light years, which always give me the creeps because I can't imagine them.

Let us to mosquito destruction, then. Introduce a good planting of Gambusia holbrookii into your pool. That is not a vesetable, but a very active little fish known variously as top minnows, mosquito fish, and Holbrook's minnow. In form this species is strikingly like a diminutive tarpon. The jaw is produced so strongly that the mouth actually seems to be on top of the head. The length of large specimens is about two inches, though most of them are two inches, though most of them are less. The female is larger than the male, and the anal fin of the female is rounded while that of the male is sharp. The color is silvery, with a metallic blue iridescence about the gill region, similar to the famous guppyi

They are live bearers, and produce from 18 to 25 young at the time. I have never raised any myself, but the gentleman who supplied my stock for my pool gave me that information. He should know. Collective bargaining in the automobile plants represented by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce complies with the national industrial recovery act.

The purpose of these plans was to provide machinery for collective bargaining, there having been no collective bargaining arrangements in most of the plants prior to the recovery act.

Mr. Green charges that these elections were unfair. The facts do not support his charge.

Many of the elected representatives now serving under the employe representation plans are officers and members of local unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

These elections were held late last summer and last fall. If any employes regarded them as unfair, they could ignore the representation plans and ask authenticated outside representatives to act for them in dealing with the management.

Sleeplessness

Sign You're Rundown!

When you can't fall asleep at night no matter how tired you may be — when your nerves plague you all night — it's a sign you're rundown. It may be due to sickness, overwork or worry, but when you're rundown one of the first things affected is your nerves. They become worn and frazzled and pick on you by day and night.

A rundown condition calls for a good randown condition calls for a good tonic and there is nothing better than Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. While a well-known remedy for Malaria, it is also an excellent general tonic and family medicine. It contains both iron and tasteless quinine in highly concentrated form. Iron, as you know, is a noted blood-builder while quinine tends to purify the blood. Both effects are highly desirable in NORFOLK. Va., March 22.—(P) Slow but steady improvement has been noted in the condition of the Right Rev. Andrew J. Culbertson on Contract By ELY CULBERTSON, World's Champion Player and Greates Card Analyst,

Au Unusual Contract.

It is rare, indeed, to find a case where a declarer is able to fulfill a contract to make two in a suit when, had the opponents bid the same suit, they would have been able to make three-odd—in other words, a hand that will produce a swing of four tricks de-pendent upon the declarer. One of these rare hands is the following:

North, dealer. Neither side vulnerable. North-South, part-score 60. A Q 10 8 ♦ A 9 8 4 ♣ J 5 4 N € 0 Q 8 7 6 0 Q 8 7 6 0 K J 10 S A K Q 7

Mr. Harold is. Vanderbilt, playing the South hand, wanted to buy the contract as cheaply as possible and tried to stop the opponents from bidding the suit in which he was the weakest by bidding two clubs. East, one of our great players, read, of course, Vanderbilt's club bid as a bluff and thought he had him trapped, as he actually had. Unfortunately, the defense was such that the contract was made.

West led a small heart, knowing that East must have an honor in that suit. For one reason or another, East failed to put up his queen. He probably reasoned that South, having made a bluff bid in clubs, probably had a good heart suit and that the play of the queen would set it up. South won with the ten of hearts and then cashed the ace of hearts. He then trumped a heart, returned to his hand with the king of spades, and trumped another heart. Now the ace of spades was played from dunmy, East trumped and, expecting Mr. Vanderbilt to have at least three clubs, played three and, expecting Mr. Vanderbilt to have at least three clubs, played three rounds of trumps. Had he stopped after the second round, he still could have set the contract. On the tenth trick he had left only diamonds and one more trump. He led a diamond. South won with the queen and fines of the tricks out the second south made the balance of the tricks. f the tricks.

East really made only one misplay in the hand and that was on the first trick, when he failed to play the queen of hearts. He hardly can be blamed for drawing three rounds of trumps, although it proved to be fatal.

Whose Fault?

When Children Get Bad Reports in School

Poor marks in school are often due to a child's physical condition. No child can study with a sluggish system. Sluggishness actually dulls the senses; it will dull the brightest mind. Before you can blame the child-or his teacher-you must be sure you are not sending a badly be sure you are not sending a badly clogged child to school. Don't wait refor a badly coated tongue, headaches, and poor appetite to tell you a child's bowels need help!

There's a way to insure their regularity; see next column:

This is the secret of helping boys and girls go through an entire school term without once slumping in their term without once slumping in their studies. Keep them free from bilious attacks. Not by purging them with cathartics of adult strength! They'll never need such things if you'll use this natural means of stimulating regular, thorough bowel action; every three or four days, let them have a little California Syrup of Figs.

ATTRACTIVE FROCK WITH YOKE AND SLEEVES IN ONE PATTERN 1800.

PATTERN 1800.

Prints are fashion's darlings again this season—and either a gay cotton or silk would be ideal for the sporty model sketched today. This frock features one of the intriguing new treatments where yoke and sleeves are cleverly cut in one. Tuck, and buttons are minute, but essential details for a smart trim. Simple as can be—yes—you can make it for yourself, even if you've never sewn before. Prove it by working with the new sewing instructor given with the pattern—it shows and tells you how to put the frock together step by step in the easiest way imaginable.

Pattern 1800 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 3 3-8 yards 36-inch fabric.

ABOUT FACIALS.

Friendly Counsel By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Problems of general interest submit-ted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss-Chaffield, care The Atlants Constitation.

I have been very attentive to a young woman and frankly I love her. She runs along smoothly for a while and then she has a spell of saying spiteful things to me. She tells me this and that about her other friends. My circumstances do other friends. My circumstances do not permit me to get married now, so I don't speak of marriage. I do not want to force my attentions moon her if they are unwelcome. What shall I do?

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

ANSWER:
Tell her the truth: Don't hold out on her. Nothing irritates a woman more than to be kept in the dark about a man's intentions toward her.
Particularly is this true when his attitude toward her indicates that he titude toward her indicates that he harbors something more than mere platonic friendship for her. Honesty is the best policy in the business of commerce and honesty is the only satisfactory policy in the business of love between a man and a woman. Nine times out of 10 a woman will accommodate herself to any set of circumstances in a man's affairs that make his immediate offer of marriage inexpedient—if he is frank with her. The thing that infuriates her to the point of frenzy is being kept in the dark.

A woman is at a great disadvantage in dealing with a man who, by general conduct and by word of mouth, implies that he is a suitor yet doesn't come out and say the word. If she is in love with him she is likely to yield to the temptation to exclude other friends and to devote all her time and interest to him. She is like a shlowrecked passenger riding on a raft with no ship in sight. As the days go by she gets weaker and weaker and until she finally becomes ill.

It is easy to understand that a conscientious man finding himself un-able to get married should hesitate to able to get married should hesitate to say to a woman that he loves her and wants to marry her, yet cannot ask her to name the day. He probably figures that he has no right to cut her out of other opportunities, no right to tie her up when he cannot go through with the wedding ceremony. Yet if he were as clever as he is conscientious he would know conclusively that the woman's irritation with him expressed in spiteful remarks and in frequent allusions to other men could have but one significance—namely, that she wanted nificance—namely, that she wanted him to declare himself.

Womanly reserve forbids her to ask him the direct question: "Do you or do you not mean business?" Pride keeps her from putting the screws to him. The freezing fear that he is merely passing the time with her, because he has no more congenial way of passing it, makes her alternate between hope and despair and when she is hopeful she "runs along smoothly." When she is despairing she says "spiteful things." caroline charrield.

66 YOUR TIME TO SUFFER? HOW OLD-FASHIONED! LET ME TELL YOU WHAT TO DO 99

There is little excuse, these days, for periodic pain—or even being uncomfortable at this time. Every girl who hasn't learned how she can keep her dates, and keep com-fortable, should read this: Watch the calendar. Just before your time, take a Midol tablet and drink a glass of water, and you may escape the expected pain entirely. If not, a second tablet should relieve it in seven to ten minutes. That is how rapidly this remedy works!

Midol relieves even those who have always had a difficult time. Relief is such that two tablets should see you through the worst day. Yet they contain no narcotic, nothing injurious. They're as harmless as the aspirin you take for an ordinary headache. But don't be fooled by ordinary pain tablets offered as a specific for menstrual pain! Midol is a special medicine, for this special purpose. Your druggist has it on purpose. Your druggist has it on the counter—or just ask for Midol.

The story of this tournament is largely the story of Jones and his comeback after retiring in 1930.

Woods Reliable.

He brought back to the game today all his mastery of the shot from the tee; all his prowess with the brassie and the spoon. The woods were his. But the chip shots to the green and the putting were rusty and awry.

He was out in 36, a bit unsteady, but pulling through by sheer effort and mechanics. It was at the 11th hole that the strain of worry began to tell.

Jones required 35 putts today. He finished the last three holes in 5, 5, 6 when even par at 4, 5, 4 would have given him a 73. These 16 strokes with the par figures badly needed were not the old Jones.

He three-nutted three greens requires were not the old Jones.

He three-putted three greens, requiring three on the 14th, the 17th and the 18th. He missed seemingly innumerable putts of four feet. They simply would not drop.

Jones knew what was wrong. But the couldn't correct it.

Jones knew what was wrong. But he couldn't correct it.

Jones came in to the locker room following his round, played with Paul Runyan, who had troubles of his own, and sat down, smiling ruefully.

"I know what's wrong," he said. "I can't get that putting stroke back. And I'm chopping at the chips."

Jones went out and practiced and the chips."

Jones went out and practiced an hour later in the afternoon and began to put with some improvement. His putting stroke has always been an easy one with a follow-through. The arc of his putting swing was never a wide one. It remained close to the wide one. It remained close to the turf.

Today he was lifting the blade higher than usual on the back of the arc. The result was that he batted at the ball. Most of the putts missed were to the left, indicating a pull.

He dropped three consecutive putts of about 15 feet in his late practice and then put down his putter, saying: "I'll put it down and try to take up there tomorrow."

His wood shots found him the Jones of old.

The clubhouse and the hotels, all jammed, is still echoing to the story of a spoon shot at No. 4 and a brassie from the No. 14 fairway.

Jones was shooting for the pin today, disregarding the safety chances. Number 4 is a 480-yard par five hole. It is a half dog-leg to the left.

Jones was in the middle, Runyan to the left, in the edge of the fairway.

Runyan played it safe, working

Going to the tee he said to Runyan. "You know, Paul, I almost took a five there."
"No, Bob." said Runyan, "it just wasn't in the book for that."

It was this putting which really began to worry Jones. Until then he had not been greatly concerned. From then on all the putts he holed were those he should have missed and all those he missed were the ones that should have been dropped with relative ease.
NOT JONES GOLF.

There were five fives and one six on the last half of Jones' card. And that isn't Jones. At least it isn't the Jones we used to know.

Jones has had rounds like this before. He had higher rounds in the day, it was announced Thursday. It will be a 36-hole medal affair and the second day's players will be divided into three groups, according to their qualifying score Sunday.

Players from all sections of the southeast will be present in addition to many others, who will be here attending the annual convention of manufacturers' representatives.

Jones appeared to be even more worried and to feel the strain considerably. I said yesterday that I believed he would find that four years of retiremet had left him a bit behind and I think this was demonstrated to be even more worried and to feel the strain considerably. I said yesterday that I believed he would find that four years of retiremet had left him a bit behind and I think this was demonstrated to day."

The field doesn't fear the Jones threat. Friends of the Georgian hope that he will be his old self tomorrow after "one warm-up fight" and take up the fight again. He is in an excellent position despite the fact that there are 34 entries with better scores. Six strokes is not a great deal to overcome if he recovers his short game and his putting.

Fritz Knothe, Major Absentee That Causes Any years ago. Concern in Camp.

By Jimmy Jones.

MACON, Ga., March 22.—Spencer Abbott, the boss checker of this outfit counted noses today—the deadline set for all Cracker players to be in camp—and discovered only two players missing from the fold.

Only one of these, Fritz Knothe, the third baseman, will cause any concern around these premises. And thus far nothing has been heard from Fritz, saving that he was still in Passaic, N. J., where he has been all winter. Horace (Pip) Koehler, the outfielder obtained from Milwaukee of the American association, and Byrne James, second baseman obtained from the New York Giants, checked in this afternoon too late for a workout, but the same of the second baseman obtained from the New York Giants, checked in this afternoon too late for a workout, but the same of the second baseman obtained from the New York Giants, checked in this afternoon too late for a workout, but the same of the Atlanta delegation as a second baseman obtained from the New York Giants, checked in this afternoon too late for a workout, but the same of the Atlanta delegation as a second baseman obtained from the New York Giants, checked in this afternoon too late for a workout, but the same of the Atlanta delegation as a second baseman obtained from the New York Giants, checked in this afternoon too late for a workout, but the same of the Atlanta delegation as a second baseman obtained from the New York Giants, checked in this afternoon too late for a workout, but the same of the Atlanta delegation as a second baseman obtained from the New York Giants, checked in this afternoon too late for a workout, but the same of the Atlanta delegation as a second baseman obtained from the New York Giants, checked in this afternoon too late for a workout, but the same of the same of the second the same of the same of the second the same of the same of TUERO HOPEFUL.

And if we count Senor Oscar Tuero, the veteran pitcher, which we should do out of respect to Oscar's years, there would be one over the number expected, for the 41-year-old Cuban, who still thinks he can pitch a little, is working with the squad and hoping to convince Spencer Abbott that he still has enough cunning left in his ancient right arm to stick around aswhile.

Senor Tuero, a guest, knows plenty about pitching and it won't hurt hav-ing an old player like him around to ing an old player like him around to dish them up to the hitters and maybe drop a pitching trick or so to the youngsters, who naturally will observe the form of a veteran.

And speaking of the young pitchers, there are a couple down here who have just about sold themselves to Spencer Abbott as being worth carrying on his staff.

They are Bill Schmidt, the towering 19-year-old right-hander from the coast, who has speed to burn and a first-rate curve ball, and "Bud" Thomas, another young right-hander who has impressed Abbott with his form and stuff he puts on the ball. Thomas has an overhand delivery and seems to have conquered his wildness.

Today was the first day that Abbott has let the pitchers cut loose with a curve. He wanted to see what some of the younger ones had in that respect and today he stood behind the batting cage to watch them. When he asked big Schmidt to curve one and the latter broke a beauty of a bender across the plate, Abbott's eyes literally popped out. And then after Schmidt had shown his hook. Abbott had

'DARK HORSES' AT AUGUSTA

71 To Start in Second Place.

By Alan Gould.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 22 .- (AP) The short, stocky figure of golf's onetime Napoleon strode over the rolling battleground of Georgia today to re-vive a flock of vivid memories but strike only a few flashes of the com-manding skill that marked his cham-pionship days as the big professional parade galloped past him on the field of action

As if encouraged by Bob's shaky start, the light horse cavalry swarmed start, the light horse cavairy swarmed over the beautiful course to such an extent that nearly half the field of 72 passed Jones by the end of the day's skirmishing. The Georgian was buried away down the list, tied for thirty-fifth place, in the professional rush to take his measure.

The opening round was so hotly contested that a triple tie developed for the first 18 holes of the four day 72-hole route. Dark horsemen were conspicuous in the vanguard as Emconspicuous in the vanguard as Emet French, the veteran from Southern Pines, N. C., and Jimmie Hines, a long-hitter from Timber Point, N. Y., shot into the lead with Horton Smith, of Chicago, the last pro to beat Jones in open competition, a feat he accomplished at Savannah in the spring of 1930. All three posted 70, two under par.

PAR OR BETTER. Not all the favorites were so well situated but, altogether, there were nine professionals with par or better for the first round and consequent advantage of four to six strokes over Jones.

Despite a taped left hand, which Despite a taped left hand, which he sprained some time ago, the colorful Walter Hagen came through with a fine 71 to equal the scores previously posted by John Golden, of Noroton, Conn.; Craig Wood, of Deal, N. J., and youthful Henry Picard, of Charleston, S. C., thereby making a four-way tie for fourth place. In a tie for eighth position, were Ky Laffoon, the sensational Denver pro, and Bill Burke, of Cleveland, 1931 open champion of the United States, both with par 72s.

All but one of those finishing the day ahead of Jones were professionals, the lone amateur being 18-year-old Willie Turnesa, of Elmsford, N. Y., youthful member of a noted golfing family, who turned in a 75. Denny Shute, the British open king, shared the 73 bracket with Leo Diegel, also from Philadelphia, and an outsider, Joe Paletti, of Chicago. Bob Jones—"When you can't even sink a four-foot putt, it makes chip shets more difficult. I had no confidence in any of my putts, although I believe I was hitting my wood and iron shots as well as I ever did. I must have missed at least a half dozen putts of six feet

Paul Runyan—"I played fairly well, except for being off the line a few times from tee to green. My approach shots didn't always behave but some of these greens are tough to figure the way they are situated. As a whole I was pretty bad around the greens and Jones had the misfortune to be even more erratic. I got down a few fair-sized putts but I missed twice as many as I sank. It still looks like a wide-open tournament to me."

Names of Liquor Dealers In Savannah Bared by U.S.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 22 .- (P. Savannah citizens today were furnished with a list of 41 establishments Upward Trend Reflected licensed as whisky dealers by the internal revenue department.

The list, disclosed by revenue agents, was not made public through any desire to help dealers by giving them a little advertising. Nor was done as a fovar to thirsty individuals who may have desired the infor

Tax collectors of the government merely had placed the finishing touches on their work of inspecting whisky stocks and had the word of their department head that there was no apparent reason why the dealers names should not be known. True, they may fall afoul of state and local officers of bone-dry Georgia, but that is no fault of the federal government. It takes their money for licenses because federal regulations require licenses from all dealers. The government, of course, did not ask them to enter the business.

Revenue agents here and in Augusta have been checking over liquor stocks to make sure they also carry the $2 per gallon tax stamps. Several seizures have been made in both cities. W. E. Page, collector of internal revenue for Georgia, said in Atlanta today the agents had just about finished with the known dealers.

The government's action in accepting their money for licenses then permitting their names to be blazoned across the pages for all to see, was not the least of the dealers' worries. A 13-year-old city ordinance was resurrected by police and shoved under the nose of one dealer, costing him a fig. of $50 and an order from the cost to destroy his supplies.

And the Paramount has a film that breaks new screen ground in its story about what is described as the debu-tante "racket." It is titled "Coming Out Party." Other new shows make their bow Sunday, when the famous Weaver Brothers and Elviry bring their own company of Ozark mountaineers to the stage at the Georgia and a new stage show also comes to the Capitol. Both houses will have clever first-run pic-houses will have clever first-run pictures, also.

The Rialto continues to play to packed houses with "It Happened One Night," with Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert. The box office at this theater forecasts perennial popularity for this film which has shown no signs of lessened drawing power though it has now played for three weeks.

And the Atlanta announces a new burlesque show for Monday called "Midnight Frolics," with Hap Farnell, Carmer—in the final week of her engagement—and a new featured woman player named Margie Carroll, coming here direct from the Star and Garter theater in Chicago.

"Scandals" at Fox. When George White, after 15 years of Broadway success, agreed to make a film version of his world-famous "Scandais," it was only on certain conditions. Those included that he should supervise and approve the en-tire picture, that his own directors, song writers, lyricists, etc., should be used, that he could bring the same beautiful girls who had graced his latest stage production and that he should decide upon the principals for should decide upon the principals for the cast.

The result, as revealed in the film that starts its run at the Fox theater today, is actual bringing of one of New York's most famous productions to the screen. The picture is delightful entertainment, including a good plot with plenty of comedy, scores of lovely girls and 10 new song hits.

Rudy Vallee, Jimmy Durante, Alice Faye, Adrienne Ames, Cliff Edwards, Gregory Ratoff and Dixie Dunbar head the cast. Many of the songs are already hit numbers, including "Sweet and Simple," "Six Women," "Your Dog Loves My Dog," "Hold Me," etc. Dixie Dunbar sings one of the songs and has a part that is really important to the plot. Scenes are laid in White's own theater while a "Scandals" show is in progress.

White's own theater while a "Scandals" show is in progress.

The short subjects on the new program include a Screen Souvenir and a cartoon, "Three Little Bears," while Jimmy Beers, at the organ, has another big overture illustrated with special slides. This time it is "Poet and Peasant." CARTERSVILLE, Ga., March 22. The election of Judge William A. Ingram as president and a ringing indorsement of the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt feaured the organization meeting of the Bartow County Young Democratic Jub here Tuesday night. Other officers elected included Wal-"Catherine the Great." Again the screen brings us a ro-mantic and fascinating tale of his-torical splendor. Recently we have seen Charles Laughton in "Henry the ter Martin, of Kingston; M. A. Perry, of Taylorsville, and Duff L. Floyd, of Adairsville, as vice presidents; Her-schel Parham as secretary and Allan Adairsville, as vice presidents; Herschel Parham as secretary and Allan Mayes as treasurer.

The new screen fare offered Atlanta today includes a historic romance of the type that seems to be rapidly growing in popularity. This is "Catherine the Great," which begins its week today at Loew's Grand.

At the Fox the new film is George White's "Scandals," first celluloid version of that famous New York girl and music entertainment. The fact that Atlanta's own new star, Dixie Dunbar, is featured in the cast adds to the interest in the production locally. consenting to betray her husband.

"Coming-Out Party."
Fox Film's latest release, "Coming-Out Party," which makes its appearance on the screen of the Paramount theater today, is a film that reveals what actually goes on behind the scenes of a debutante's launching. Jesse L. Lasky, producer, is reported as having staged the film on a lavish scale.

One of the season's debutantes is being prepared for her social premiere.

NEW YORK, March 22 .- (AP)-Rallies from morning declines in cotton today in sympathy with a steadier stock market were not maintained and prices again eased in the late trading under liquidation and foreign the selling. Labor situation uncertainties checked buying. July contracts which had rallied from 11.95 to 12.07, closed at 12.02, with the general market finishing barely steady at net losses of 1 to 8 points. . Following early declines of 8 to 12 points, the market turned steadier on since January 1.

NEW YORK, March 22 .- (AP)-Mildly-mixed trends in today's rather listless bond market.

Both traders and investors showe a decided preference for the side lines as the president went into con-ference with labor leaders at Wash ington in an effort to avert the threat ened motor strike.

The trading volume amounted t $12,290,000, par value. The average for 60 domestic corporate issue was one-tenth of a poilnt lower, a

Most of United States governmen sectrities were slightly off as the financial district began to advance guesses as to the treasury's plans fo meeting the April 15 maturity o some $1.000.000,000 of called Liberty Fourth 4 1-4s.

While minor declines were registered by most of the rails, moderate gains were held by some liens of Alleghany Corporation, Chesapeake Corporation, Chesapeake & Ohio, St. Paul and Pennsylvania. The more active carrier losers of fractions to around a point included bonds of Wabash, Texas & Pacific, Southern, New Orleans, T. & M., N. Y. Central, and Santa Fe.

Improvement was shown by loans of Armour & Co., American Water, Works, American Rolling Mill, Postal Telegraph and Western Union. Small losses and gains were about evenly divided among the utilities and indus-

Foreign obligations were dull and CHICAGO, March 22.-(AP)-Upturns of more than a cent a bushel late today from earlier low levels for wheat accompanied talk of possible quick adjustment of the automobile industrial crisis. A stimulus to wheat price rallies was also found in Washington announcement that the senate finance committee had adopted an agricultural department recommendation to reduce from 5 cents to 1 cent per reduce from 5 cents to 1 cent per $100 value the tax on commodity ex-change transfers of produce. Reports of widespread need of soaking rains over the wheat belt, espeially spring crop sections both north and south of the Canadian line, were also given at-

Top quotations on wheat, however, failed to hold, and the close was unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1-4 cent higher, corn 1-8 off to 1-4 np, oats unchanged to 1-8 advance, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents decline.

Corn and oats were steadied by the fact that rural offerings of corn to

Estate of Ex-Employe Sued by Manufacturer

Sued by Manufacturer
MONTREAL, March 22.—(UP)
A Montreal shoe manufacturer has filed suit for $20,250 against the estate of a late employe, charging that the employe, for a period of 15 years, had loafed on the job.
The complaint is made by Joseph Daoust against the estate of the late Celestine Lalonde, who worked for Daoust about 27 years.
Lalonde, during 15 years of his employment, it is charged, spent at least three-fourths of his working hours asleep, reading the newspapers or in other extraneous pursuits.

Daoust also asks an additional $32,400 from the estate, declaring $32.400 from the estate, declaring that Lalonde appropriated at least two pairs of shoes a day from the two pairs of shoes a way that company's stocks. Some of these shoes, it is alleged, were given to reshoes, it is alleged, were given to reshoes, it is alleged.

star group known as Orion came into sight.

It was hardly less of a treat than to be beneath a starlit sky in the real world of nature; and in this little world of nature; and in this little world of the planetarium there was something which nature could not supply—a guide with an electric pointer!

The electric pointer threw a white spot to this place and to that place, wherever the guide wanted the audience to look.

More wonderful than the pointer was the working of the projector. It showed a changing view of the sky. The planets moved, and the moon went through its course. Time went fast. In less than an hour we were able tese, on a small scale, the motions of months and year—all from little lights sent to the dome from the projector. The planetarium in Chicago is the first of its kind to be set up on this continent: but many cities in Europe have them. The method was brought forth by a German scientist in 1903. Several years ago I saw one in action in Stockholm.

Heisman, the famous football coach, also coached the Tech baseball team at the time. And Heisman had taught the Jackets the art of using the squeeze bunt most effectively. The Jackets frequently beat their opponents with this now-popular ruse. But the foxy Maynard conceived the idea of "pitching out"—another off-used method now—to catch the runner coming in from third. When

"Lige" Maynard was a very foxy pitcher and had a deceptive side-arm delivery. Few clubs, college or professional, could beat him when he was right. And the Judge was right by the citizens of Macon and students bore him off the field on their shoul-ders. That season baseball at Mer-cer netted a profit of $1,700. Brilliant Spoon and Brassie Shots Finest Young Pro Has Ever Seen.

By Paul Runyan. (Written Exclusively for the United Press.)
(Copyright, 1984, by United Press.)
AUGUSTA, Ga., March 22.—(UP)—I have just finished playing the first round of the Masters' Invitation golf tournament with Bobby Jones as a partner, and it was one of the most enjoyable days I have We started off with practically all of the spectators in our gallery, which only proved what everybody already knew—that Bobby is still the idol of the golfing world.

Before the tournament started I was of the opinion that Bobby's long stay in retirement would do something to his confidence under fire. I still feel that this is true, for he appeared very nervous, stopping and for the gallery to quiet down.

Bobby's' wood play was the finest of I have ever seen. With long, straight drives and brilliant spoon and brassie shots. On the difficult par 5 fourth hole he hammered one of the greatest spoons ever hit, the ball carrying straight for the flag, and putting him in position to putt for an eagle 3. I was honestly sorry he missed it. On the 5 par eleventh, from a dismal downhill lie, he hit a cut brassie high enough and long enough to carry the traps guarding the green 250 yards away, and the ball came to rest 6 feet from the pin.

my Hines, one of the great rounds the day fell to Walter Hagen. To course was new to this veteran many wars. His left hand and we were still sore and swollen from a cent accident. But the afternoon g lery marched with him, his hair bleed water events and the same to and for the gallery to quiet down. COLLASPED ON HIM from the pin. ERRATIC WORK.

Bobby's score was 76, which was entirely due to his erratic work around entirely due to his erratic work around the greens, both in chipping and putting. After repeatedly hitting fine wood and iron shots to the greens, he would fail to get down his putts. And when a green was missed, making a chip shot necessary, he was a bit at sea.

The Atlantan is still a master shotmaker, but needs a few rounds under his belt to get into his best competitive frame of mind.

My own game was going along smoothly with three easy pars on the first three holes and a shaky par 5 on the fourth. I then settled down on the fourth. I then settled down nicely for four pars through the eighth, which, coupled with a birdie 3 at the ninth, gave me a 35, one under par, for the outgoing nine.

My field shots on the incoming nine were uniformly good with the excep-tion of a spade shot at the twelfth which was too strong, and a miss hi shot with the same club to the eighteenth. My chipping and putting, how ever, became highly unsteady coming home, costing me a stroke to par of the fourteenth and sixteenth. the fourteenth and sixteenth.

Some may attribute my poor work around the greens to excitement caused by playing with the master of them all, Bobby Jones, but that's not true. I felt at ease at all times. He is a most considerate partner, and his magnificent play with his woods an inspiration.

nspiration. Unfortunately, Bobby and I didn't do much today to further our chances of winning from such a fast field, but one can never tell. Tomorrow we may get red-hot and go out in from my Hines, one of the great rounds of the day fell to Walter Hagen. The course was new to this veteran of many wars. His left hand and wrist were still sore and swollen from a recent accident. But the afternoon gallery marched with him, his hair as black and as sleek as ever, his golfing uniform in to the letter words as he uniform up to the latest mode, as he moved around in 36-35 for a 71, where he might easily have had a 68. It was a marvelous performance, when you consider all the handicaps. He was hitting the ball better than he did when he occupied the twin peaks of American and British golf.

The gallery was large and keen. It will grow bigger as the week moves on. For there are still 35 golfers who can win this Augusta open and one of them is Bobby Jones.

One of the outstanding departures this year will be a cooking school conducted by Miss Fern Snider, who is director of the home economics department, Georgia Power Company. Miss Snider has planned a number of unique recipes which will be demonstrated at the daily sessions and a full announcement will be made at a later date. Housewives of Atlanta have always welcomed competent cooking school instruction and Miss Snider is well equipped to give it.

So that those who are "style con-his famous orchestra will be on hand to see that ample entertainment in the way of music is furnished.

Of course many of the manufacturers having booths will give away samples of their products as well as leaflets, souvenirs and other interesting things you will want to "take home." A pure food show such as put on by the Rogers stores is certainly worth the title as "spring's most outstanding event" and no Atlantan will wish to miss it.

The Winners!

Again the response to the contest announced last week on this page was overwhelming. The contest last week was for the best letter on "Your Frank Opinion of Rogers' Bakery Products" and scores of letters were received by the judges most of which praised Idle Knife bread and the other Rogers' bakery products while several letters of criticism were among those received. All the letters were given equal consideration and it was with much difficulty that the judges finally selected the following as the prize winners:

First prize was won by Miss Stella

First prize was won by Miss Stella Hogan, 703 Medical Arts building, and the $5 merchandise order good at and the $5 merchandise order good at any Rogers store has been sent her. Second prize goes to Mrs. John M. Outler Jr., 171 Fourth street, N. W., and third prize to Mrs. H. J. Gordon, of 563 Eighth street, N. W., and $3 and $2 orders, respectively, have been sent them. Rogers Quality Food Shops and particularly Rogers Bakery appreciate the interest shown in the contest and thanks all those who participated for their helpful sug-

Rogers' Bakery Products.
Like most southerners, I grew up with the idea that nothing could take with the idea that rothing could take the place of home-baked bread, but certain outstanding and well-combined qualities of Rogers' bakery products have entirely overcome this early implanted prejudice.

The well-balanced qualities of both the Idle Knife bread and the rolls that have won me so completely are first, the flavor, which is palatable and satisfying, and second, the texture, which is firm, but fine, light, fluffy and tender, beyond words. Despite this tenderness, the bread slices spite this tenderness, the bread slice more easily and evenly than any have used.

These qualities cannot be acquired by accident, but are a natural outcome when the best grade of ingredients are mixed and baked by experts.

STELLA HOGAN.
